

Art for Water along the Lamprey River

In 2013, Christine Destrempe, director of Art for Water, was awarded a Small Grant to bring local and global water issues to life for residents of the Oyster River School District. She led five classes for elementary and high school students as well as an evening session for the community-at-large. After her presentations, she gave each participant a piece of paper and asked each person to share a personal quote, story, or impression about water. She then took those pieces of paper and created a Stream of Conscience art installation at the Durham Public Library. To learn more about Art for Water, please visit <http://artforwater.org>.

The Lamprey River "Stream of Conscience" art installation at the Durham Public Library